TRAINING IN THE GUIDED IMAGERY & MUSIC METHOD (GIM)

A RECEPTIVE FORM OF MUSIC PSYCHOTHERAPY

Guided Imagery and Music (GIM-Bonny method) belongs to the holistic traditions of psychotherapy. It is a form of music-assisted therapy, an innovative, integrative tool that can be used alongside many therapeutic approaches, with scientific evidence for effectiveness in various clinical fields.

This 3-day seminar and workshop introduces mental health professionals to basic theory and practice of GIM. A full training in the method will be offered later in 2017 for those who wish to continue. The training focuses on the traditional GIM method but also incorporates modifications and adapted shorter forms of Music and Imagery (MI), appropriate for work in various fields such as psychological trauma, psycho-oncology, palliative care, perinatal psychology, addictions, team-building, etc.

The professional training course offered by IMAGEing is accredited by the international Association for Music and Imagery (AMI). Graduates are eligible to apply for registration as Fellows of AMI and approved therapists of the method.
